

Marketing automation platform

Abyssale - Automatically generate banner ads in minutes.

Creating visual marketing assets such as IAB banner ads (Google advertising) or social banners is most of the time tedious and time-consuming.

Back and forths between marketing and design teams are necessary and once the final visual validated, it is generally difficult to A/B test your content at scale.

Made for your marketing team

Abyssale enables marketing teams to gain speed & autonomy on banner creation.

- No design skills required. Your marketing team can by themselves create all their visual content at scale.
- Our cutting edge design algorithm generates an extended range of design variations for your organic and paid campaigns.
- Spend more time on strategy than execution! Abyssale's streamlined workflow is built to speed up your creation process.
- Your banners are always on-brand. Our brand presets feature ensures your design guidelines are always followed.
- Get rid of the guesswork, A/B test multiple content and images in a few clicks.

Features built to generate unique banners for your brand

Made simple. Our algorithm only needs a logo, a picture, and your wording content to automatically generate professional-looking banners.

Our edition mode enables you to make small adjustments giving you even more control over the generated results.

Improve your impressions performances. All banners generated can be scaled across many formats and platforms while keeping the design style and content from its original banner.

Experiment with multiple wording content and/or images of your product by using our content variations features.

Are you an e-merchant? Travel company? Generate banners for your entire catalog in minutes and retarget your customers with the right banners. generate banners ads for social media

About Abyssale

The platform is currently in early-access allowing us to monitor a limited amount of companies at the same time. This is to ensure a good experience for everyone, assistance and a listening ear from our team.

Want to try it out? Subscribe now! We regularly send invitations to our waiting list.